

Modelling parallel computation - symbolic dynamics on infinite traces

Wit Foryś

A framework for studying dynamical properties of parallel computation processes represented by continuous mappings acting on a space of infinite real traces is formulated. Within this framework relations between the dynamics of sequential computations and their parallel counterparts are investigated. The research covers also modelling parallel computations on bi-infinite time-scale and problems of indecomposable dynamics, that is minimal systems.