

Sampling in Large Matrices and Approximation of CSP

Marek Karpinski

Abstract. We survey some recent results in designing constant time approximation schemes (CTASs) for large classes of NP-hard optimization problems. We describe underlying randomized approximation methods and new paradigms for designing such algorithms and put recent results in more general perspective.